Each agreement includes the option for the company to terminate at any time; this has no negative impact to the City since payments are made only after compliance and performance have been verified. The following companies have terminated their agreements: Websense, Dropbox, National Instrument, US Farathane, eBay, SunPower, Facebook, LegalZoom, HelioVolt, Hewlett-Packard, and Advanced Technology Development Facility (ATDF).

The Friday Night Lights Television series has been completed. The production ran for five seasons until concluded. The payout totaled $157,254.

The agreement between Home Depot and the City was terminated after Home Depot failed to demonstrate that they had complied with the terms of the agreement during 2008.
